Hi Andrew, it looks like ND's WQS will be in at the end of June unless an emergency meeting is held by the legislative rules committee.

Thanks,
Holly

Dear Holly:

I am in a holding pattern due to the legislature. The legislative rules committee will not meet until mid-June 2021 so 1 week after that. "If" they do an emergency I am on the list but by June 30th for sure.

On a separate subject (selenium) we are having an internal meeting on the 20th to dedicate some staff and officially add it to the monitoring for 2021 – all good stuff. After that I will schedule a meeting with you and your gang of experts and get the samples, methods and protocols identified to achieve the goal. I am pumped. This is valuable, new, targeted, and all the stuff that is frosting on my often bitter deserts.

Sometimes dealing with 401 and fighting drains – I allow frustration to creep in. There is a bill being introduced that would remove the requirement for notification of any subsurface drain even if it is draining surface waters. This would remove due process and make a difficult job even more confrontational.

Please recognize that I appreciate all the help I have received this past year from you and a number of others in region 8 on the standards, CWA 401, and 2020 NWP.

Sincerely,
Pete

Hi Pete I hope all is well and that your holidays were excellent.

Can you please tell me your estimated date for submitting the triennial WQS package? Our managers are just trying to track dates - it's nothing more than that.

At some point when you have time, let's talk about when to have the first call about your sampling plan with the selenium leads.

Thanks,
Holly
